(Andrea Meixner, DAAD lecturer)

The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) is the largest funding organisation in the world supporting the international exchange of students and scholars. DAAD runs over 250 programmes, through which it funds more than 74,000 international students and scholars worldwide per annum. These programmes range from language classes and semesters abroad for undergraduates to doctoral programmes and research grants for scholars, from internships to visiting lectureships, and from information gathering visits to assisting with the establishment of new universities abroad.
