

Vesna Perković Jović, PhD is full professor at the University of Split, Faculty of Civil Engineering, Architecture and Geodesy. She obtained the title Diplom Engineer of Architecture in 1997 and PhD in 2010 at the University of Zagreb, Faculty of Architecture. Since the year 2001 she is employed at the University of Split, Faculty of Civil Engineering, Architecture and Geodesy. She is a licensed architect since 1999 and member of the Croatian Chamber of Architects. Her first employment was in office “Studio for Architecture and Urban Planning Zdeslav Perković, PhD” in Split working on various tasks in architecture and urbanism. Her field of scientific research is modern architecture and urbanism in Split and Dalmatia, focusing mainly on the second half of the 20th century. Along with teaching and scientific research, she also deals with architectural design.